

Urban & Wetland Birds

The Meadow Pipit, Riabhóg Mhóna

Habitat: Grass lands, rough pastures, bogs & uplands
Diet: Craneflies, mayflies spiders and seeds.
Status: An Irish native common bird, Red-listed.

The Grey Heron, Corr Réisc

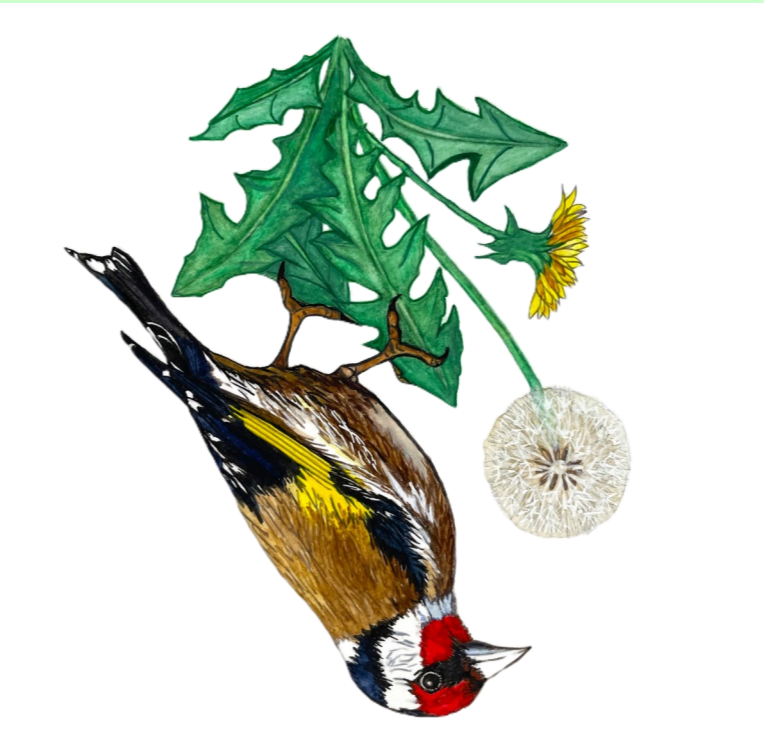

Habitat: Wetlands, estuaries, rivers and lakes.
Diet: Fish, amphibians, small mammals and insects.
Status: a common resident wading bird, Green-listed

Habitat: Moor land, farmland, wetlands, town parks.
Diet: Small mammals, insects and invertebrates.
Status: A widespread resident, Red-listed.

The Kestrel, Pocaire Gaoithe

Any usage of this publication must credit artist Ann Lambe, Nature Network Ireland, Kinship and Community Foundation Ireland.

The Snipe, Naoscach

Habitat: Wetlands, marshes, wet meadows & bogs.
Diet: Veg matter, seeds, earthworms, tipulid larvae.
Status: A resident wading bird, Red-listed.

Habitat: Wooded landscapes, gardens and parks.
Diet: Seeds, & nuts from the bird feeder.
Status: A native garden bird, Green-listed.

The Goldfinch, Lasair Chaille

The Linnet, Gleoiseach

Habitat: Scrubland, farmland, uplands and gorse.
Diet: Seeds, buds & insects when feeding the young
Status: A widespread resident, Amber-listed.

Habitat: Woodlands, farmland, gardens and parks.
Diet: Insects, seeds and nuts at the bird feeder.
Status: A common resident, Green-listed.

The Coal Tit, Meantán Dubh